

Code Pro

ABOUT:

If tricky algorithms make you happy, solving problems to hone your algorithmic skills is what you yearn for then get ready to storm your brain and challenge some of the best coders of the region with your knowledge and speed. Government college of Engineering and Ceramic Technology presents Code-Pro ,a competitive programming contest open for students of all the years. So, get ready to storm your brains, challenge your limits and claim the top spot.....

TASK:

You will be given 5-6 algorithmic problems to solve within 3 hrs. The platform is Codechef.

GENERAL RULES AND REGULATION:

1. College going students of all the years are allowed.
2. Maximum of 2 members are allowed per Team.
3. Inter-college teams are allowed.
4. The participants will have to bring their College ID card for verification & identification.
5. Same participant cannot be present in more than one team.
6. There is no restriction to the number of teams participating from the same institute.
7. There will be only one round. The team finishing at the top will be declared winner.
8. Each team will be allotted a single Computer only.
9. Participants are not allowed to have access to books, internet, external drives or mobile phones or any such similar aids during the contest.
10. The contest will be held on Codechef platform(www.codechef.com). At least one member of the Team should have a Codechef account. Teams can use any of the programming languages supported by codechef.
11. No offline IDEs will be provided. Teams will have to use the online IDE provided by codechef.
12. The event coordinators will not be responsible if teams do not turn up on time.
13. In case of any unsolicited events, the decision of the coordinator will be deemed final.

REGISTRATION FEES: Rs per Team.